Uniform industry in INDIA is still in the process of evolving. As Indian government has given education a priority and due to its large young population, demand for school uniforms will keep on growing by 10-15% every year. Also as India is growing economically, demand for work wear uniforms is increasing by 10-15% every year. Sparsh Fab has been one of the first companies to have focused on uniform industry and has evolved with the growing demand. With in house production of uniform fabrics since 1974, the company promises to fulfill expectations of the industry by expansion in its production capacity with automatic imported looms. In its endeavor to deliver high quality fabrics on time, the company has increased its production capacity by adding 54 Sulzer looms and 36 Rapier looms last year.

The company has a dedicated team of more than 120 employees. The Company has huge inventory of designs to choose from in uniform fabrics. Also it has strong infrastructure to manufacture as per specific requirements of its esteemed customer with precise shade and design matching, superior quality and meet deliver commitments.
